Healing the Judge—Part 2

An experiential workshop on learning to recognize projection and free ourselves (and our relationships) from the energetic effects of our judgment of others.

In my perspective, the biggest obstacle to creative change, flow, and movement in our lives is judgment. It is also the greatest block to experiencing our own essence, our true nature as divine being.

In this 4 day workshop, Healing the Judge—Part 2, we will focus our intention on learning how the principle of “projection” works, recognizing our own misplaced judgment of others, and how most of our relationship difficulties are self-created by this process. We will learn and practice a method of exploration that has endless transformative potential and application in all areas of our lives.

In addition to learning these practical tools, time and space will also be available to support the individual process work of those participants who want to discover and experience deeper awareness and understanding of their true nature. Each participant will come away from this experience with a keen, fresh awareness that can have an immediate, practical impact on their lives.

DATES: September 22-25. Classes will start at 10 AM each day. Check-in begins on Wednesday, September 21.

LOCATION: Marquette Island Retreat, Hessel, Michigan (Lake Huron)

COST: $475.00 This includes tuition, 3 meals per day, parking, and transportation to the island each day.

Please register by September 5. We need to plan for logistics. Late registrations after September 5 will be accepted at a cost of $500.00.

ACCOMODATIONS: Free on-site accommodations are available for the first 10 people making a $100.00 deposit, on a first come, first served basis. Special arrangements and pricing have been made at the nearby Spring Lodge and Cottages for additional accommodations.
